Grain and Provision Markets Suffer from Effects of Feasting Holiday.

WHEAT AND CORN SHOW SLIGHT DECLINES

Dig Sales for Shipment at St. Louis Cause Market to Open Well, but Prices Soon Turn Weak-

Provisions Lower.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 .- All the grain and provision markets appeared to be suffering from too much turkey and mince ple trimmings today. Duliness was the rule and prices declined. Wheat shows a loss of 1-8014c. Corn closed 1-8c lower. Oats are a shade lower. Provisions declined 21/25c. For a few brief moments following the opening wheat made a show of strength omewhat surprising, in view of the weakness shown by foreign markets. Liverpool advised a decline of %d before business started here, and London reported English and foreign wheat difficult of sale at 6d decline. The cash situation, however, apparently overshadowed news for the time being. The reported sale of 650,000 bu. of wheat at St. Louis for immediate shipment -an amount one-half of the total available supply at that point-caused a moderate mount of covering by the smallfry, and in the absence of any particular selling pressure the opening prices were maintained for a short time. May started 1-869 % thigher at 86% $660 7-80. December opening unchanged at 65% $660 7-80. But the market soon turned weak. Perhaps the biggest factor in trading was the figures on the Argentine exportable surplus. They were widely at variance, London cables giving the estimates at from 37,000,000 bu. to 66,-900,000 bu. But even the lower of these amounts was far in excess of last year's exports and this fact had its effect. Northwest receipts were 1,463 cars, compared with in the absence of any particular selling exports and this fact had its effect. North-west receipts were 1,463 cars, compared with 1,525 cars last week and 1,542 a year ago. Chicago receipts were 131 cars, two of con-tract grade. Though showing some falling off the receipts were heavy enough to sug-gest that the hindrance to country ship-ments caused by the late storms had been about overcome. Up to about 11 cyclock about overcome. Up to about 11 o'clock trade was very depressed.

The biggest traders favored the bear side, and their selling, though not particularly heavy, was influential in causing scattered liquidation by the crowd and in contracting the buyling demand. December developed and their seiling, though not particularly heavy, was influential in causing scattered ilquidation by the crowd and in contracting the buying demand. December developed the most weakness, selling off to 67c, May declining to 66 3-8666½c. The market showed signs of recovery for a time following that decline. There was a large cash business done here, 500,000 bu, being reported taken, though 260,000 bu, was all that could be definitely confirmed, and the seaboard claim deighty loads taken for export. This stopped the liquidation in a degree and encouraged buyers, prices recovering to 67 1-8 6674c for December and to 67 5-86674c for May. But in the last half hour's trading support was almost totally withdrawn from the market, although nothing of a bearish nature developed and prices slowly declined. Final prices were near the bottom. December closing at 66 7-8c and May at 67 1-86674c.

Corn was weak during the greater part of rather a dull session. Local bulls did considerable liquidation in the expectation to a larger movement in the immediate future. Steady cables helped the market at the start. The seaboard reported sixty loads taken for export, and a good local cash business was done. Receipts were 255 tears. May rathed from 34 1-8c to 344c and closed 1-8c lower at 344c.

Oats was extremely dull, but rather firm considering the weakness of other grain markets. Offerings were very light. The cut in freight rates was a factor enabling shippers to keep outs moving east. Receipts were 183 cars. Export demands were good. May ranged from 261-8c to 2614c and closed a shade lower at 26 3-8c.

Provisions were dull and a shade lower, mostly in sympathy with corn. There was some outside buying, but packers offered all the market could absorb. Heavy receipts are expected next week and this had its effect. The crowd was disposed to sell on every slight rally. Cash demand was good. At the close January pork was 6c lower at $5.05.

Estimated receipts for Saturday: Wheat, 29c cars; corn, 370 cars; oats, 235 cars; hogs, lower at $3.00. January lard 214.05c lower at $5.006.0214 and January ribe 5c lower at $5.05. Estimated receipts for Saturday: Wheat, 200 cars; corn, 370 cars; oats, 235 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.

OPERATIONS IN STOCKS AND BONDS.

Leaders in Bull Campaign Refrain from Buying on a Large Scale. NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The action of the stock market today was suggestive of a process of rather elaborate and cautious testing. The powerful allied interests which have led the recent bull campaign refrained from buying on a large scale today and from buying on a large scale today and seemed to occupy the position of lookers-on at the profit-taking sales in progress. They stood ready, however, to come to the support of their favorites in the event of their being too hard pressed. Profit-taking was very clearly in evidence in the Atchison issues, and the Federal Steel stocks, People's Gas, Southern Railway preferred and a number of others upon which the recent advance has been sufficient to make profits attractive.

a number of others upon which the recent advance has been sufficient to make profits attractive.

The selling pressure was by no means urgent in these stocks, which showed a decided falling off from the recent degree of activity, except Atchison preferred. But they were clearly indisposed to advance. The Northern Pacific stocks maintained their recent drooping tendency pending the result of further consultations between the Northern Pacific and Oregon Navigation authorities looking to the adjustment of the dispute over division of territory. It was significant that the stocks of other railroads vitally interested in the controversy were inclined to advance.

The Union Pacific stocks were strong, the common gaining 13-8, and Oregon Short Line rose over 1 point. Great Northern, on the other hand, lost 1 point. There was evidence of manipulation at some points, no doubt designed to counteract the profitation elsewhere and to sustain the market. This was most flagmant in the Reading Issues. The first preferred stock closed unchanged from Wednesday, after having been over 3 points above the parity of Wednesday's closing in London this morning. It above at the opening here and 1½ below during the course of the afternoon trading.

The movement in the other coalers was insignificant, although efforts were made to convey the impression that the movement in the Reading securities was due to coming favorable developments in the coal trade. There were also very positive ele-

SHEEP—There were pienty of sheep here today, the run being the largest of any day since Monday. It has been a good many weeks since so few sheep have arrived as during the five days of this week. It will be noted from table of average prices at head of column that there has been a very large decrease as compared with last week, while as compared with two weeks ago there has been a falling off of over one-half.
While today's receipts were fair in respect to numbers they were not of the right kind, the most of them being faceders.
There were a few killers among the offerings, some western wethers going at $3.50 and some Mexican yearlings at $4.35. The same kind of yearlings sold just before the break at $4.4574,55, showing that the market is now only 10/2/20c lower than at that time.
The fact is the market on desirable fat sheep has shown considerable improvement this week, values gradually firming up.
The market on stock and feeding sheep had lambs continues very dull and in practically the same condition as was noted yesterday. Buyers are chiefly conspicuous by their absence and receivers complain that it is elow work finding buyers for that class of stuff.
Quotations are: Good grass westerns, $4.0074.15; fair to good yearlings. $4.0074.15; fair to good yearlings. $4.0074.15; good to choice lambs, $5.0075.5c; fair to good yearlings, $4.5074.85; cull sheep, $2.5073.00; cull lambs, that market we much say.

BIG NEBRASKA FARMS.

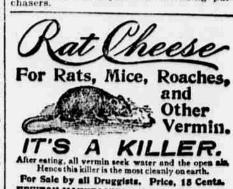

Butler County, noted for its rich loam soil and challenging to comparison any other section of the corn belt for seasonable rains, is attracting considerable attention now by reason of two extensive farms within its boundaries being offered for sale there at what is said to be extremely low figures considering the character of improvements and the quality of the soil.

One consists of a farm of 2,400 acres in one body, only one-half mile from railroad station. This farm, it is said, cannot be duplicated, either in the immensity of its improvements for handling grain and live stock, or richness of its dark loam in any of the five great corn states.

The other farm consists of 1,400 acres only a short distance from a railroad station, with good improvements. This farm may more properly be called a ranch and is attracting the attention of many western stockmen.
